2014 OAG flight volume

International flights remained positive for the year

Global domestic flight departures substantially weaker in first half of the year primarily due to European contraction

Domestic flight schedules stabilized at lower levels in the second half of the year

Trading performance

Airline Solutions

- The business benefited from organic growth.
- Long haul flight volume growth continued across all markets. Short haul flight volume recovered in Europe and US by end of year.
- Reported revenues were slightly down due to divestments, termination of unprofitable contracts, and currency movements against the Swiss Franc.
- Underlying performance bolstered by flow-through from the organic growth, restructuring benefits in Europe and Australia (post-acquisition integration), and further business development in Latin America.
- Offset by weaker performance in North America (primarily severe weather, adverse flight mix changes) and weaker profitability in Japan. Actions in process to address weakness.
- Work on new market entry and bolt-on acquisitions progressing.

Product and Supply Chain Solutions

- Strong revenue growth driven by a combination of new business wins and reinvestment by the larger traditional carriers in equipment with enhanced food offerings.
- Intense price pressure in Europe and the U.S. countered by focus on production and cost containment with suppliers.
- More dynamic environment in Emerging Markets
  - Greater investment in onboard service and product offerings, particularly focused on long-haul premium passenger traffic.
  - Growth in intra-regional travel and low-cost carriers also driving demand for ready-to-eat food solutions.
- Increased penetration of non-aviation sectors (equipment and ready to eat food).
- Growth and stable margins across all PSCS product and service brands.

2. INITIAL THOUGHTS ON POSITIONING AND STRATEGY

Passenger growth and long / short haul traffic development

Long-term passenger growth and key impacts

- Since 1970, the air travel has appreciated with a passenger volume average annual growth (CAGR) of 4.7%
- The growth was not substantially affected by recent crisis of the world economy

Evolution of long haul vs short haul traffic

- Since 1973, long haul traffic has grown 1% per year faster than short haul traffic
- The overall development indicates a rising demand of air catering services

Source: OAG, Airbus 2013

2. RBR Rebuttal
RBR allegation: “[...] the company has fallen behind nearly every one of its peers in terms of operating performance over the past few years” (RBR 8-point program, 7 March 2015)

- The selected peers by RBR are not truly comparable since gategroup is a global non-captive company containing many different services
- Do&Co’s airline catering-related business is about 20% the size of gategroup’s. The concentration and span of services offered are not truly comparable.
- SATS is concentrated in the Emerging Markets with significant captive contracts and other services in Singapore. They do not have a global footprint as gategroup does
- LSG SkyChefs is the only competitor with a comparable global network, however, as part of the Lufthansa Group, it is a captive provider of airline catering and thus may benefit from subsidized pricing as well as leverage Lufthansa’s shared services

Comparison with LSG SkyChefs

RBR allegation: “[...] the company has fallen behind nearly every one of its peers in terms of operating performance over the past few years” (RBR 8-point program, 7 March 2015)

Revenue growth (2010-2014Q3 YTD)

- The growth profile of gategroup is broadly similar or even better compared to LSG
- gategroup’s revenue growth has remained constantly positive while LSG sales declined in 2013

EBITDA margin (2010-2014Q3 YTD)

- gategroup’s EBITDA margin is in line with its major peer LSG
- In fact, during 2010, 2011 and 2014Q3 YTD the margin of gategroup was higher
- As part of the Lufthansa Group, LSG may benefit from shifted costs to other sectors of Lufthansa’s business based on internal transfer pricing flexibility

LSG is the only comparable company to gategroup, but as part of Lufthansa it is a captive provider of airline catering

RBR allegation: “Nearly all long-term growth or margin targets have been missed [...]” (RBR 8-point program, 7 March 2015)

- On the back of adverse currency movements and Eurozone crisis, 2011 financial performance was below expectations.
- In 2010, 2012, 2013 and 2014, the financial guidance was met.
- Going forward, an incremental EBITDA lift of c. CHF70 million is required to achieve the 2017 EBITDA targets which were issued in 2014. The following factors will provide a substantial contribution:
  - Two years of organic growth on the group will result in a substantial lift. The historical revenue growth of 3-4% is expected to continue. Operating leverage is very positive on organic growth with good positive flow through to EBITDA and cash.
  - gategroup continues to streamline and adjust its organisation in order to improve operational efficiency. Additional cost savings of around CHF15 million are expected in 2015, with a run rate of CHF30 million per year in place by the beginning of 2016.
- Moreover, the positive industry momentum and the completion of the renewal of a large portion of long-term makes us very comfortable in achieving the stated guidance.

M&A track record

RBR allegation: “Costly acquisitions proved to be nonstarters” (RBR 8-point program, 7 March 2015)

- Acquisitions have contributed almost 10%-pts of gategroup’s 32% revenue growth since 2009 (on a constant currency basis)
- Since 2007, the company undertook more than 20 transactions and selectively continues to do bolt-on acquisitions
- In 2011, gategroup reorganized the approach of acquisitions including a rigorous review and diligence program
- The approach has allowed expansion into key geographies and business lines that provide strong platforms for growth
- The Indian acquisition was the only one that initially delivered below expectations, however, the business performance is now stable and offers gategroup exposure to a market with strong growth opportunities

General cost management

RBR allegation: “[…] costs are questionable”; “A restructuring program with a savings potential of CHF150 million over the next three years should be launched […]” (RBR 8-point program, 7 March 2015)

gategroup has realised considerable cost savings. As of today we have a flexible and well managed cost structure

- Following an in-depth review of best practices across all our business units, we have implemented a number of operational efficiency and cost control measures globally.
- gategroup has implemented significant costs savings programs over the recent years to counter adverse trends which impact the markets we operate in. Between 2011 and 2014, the Group eliminated approximately CHF 165 million in costs, representing 1.0-1.5% of total cost per year.
- These were necessary to offset the adverse impacts to the business for example currency environment, European crisis, pre-emptive contract renewals discount, and non recoverable CPI escalation
- Without these efforts the results of the company would had been much weaker.
- Up until 2015, further savings of c. CHF15 million are targeted with a run rate of c. CHF30 million in place by 2016.
- Efficiency improvements were achieved without neglecting service quality.
- More than two- third of today’s cost structure is variable, allowing to quickly react to a cyclical market environment.

Personnel and material expenses

RBR allegation: “The company’s personnel costs have grown in recent years, both as an absolute number and relative to sales”
(correspondence with RBR, 2014/2015)

- The key ratio to be observed is the Personnel & Material Cost Ratio: Airlines can require to source more finished products that carry a higher material cost or to use more labor to prepare food products at our facilities. These demands obviously impact the cost ratio
- The aggregated personnel and material cost ratio is declining since 2012 showing benefit from European restructuring and other cost containment measures
- The restructuring measures already initiated will lead to a further significant decrease of costs

RBR allegation: “gategroup has failed to centrally manage its material and service costs, which constitutes around 40% of the revenue”
(correspondence with RBR, 2014/2015)

- An appropriate IT system is in place and all data is available to manage all cost elements
- All material costs are tracked and controlled through our local ERP systems
- We have instituted a comprehensive program, Total Cost Management (“TCM”), to review our controllable spend and, wherever possible, consolidate procurement and costs
- The TCM program drives annual savings reduction in all areas of the business in excess of CHF15-20 million per recent years since 2012 and on-going

Cost saving impact and cash conversion

- The earnings have been impacted by factors previously disclosed
- Cash flows are structurally volatile due to the exposure to the cyclical commercial airline industry
- Nevertheless as of 31 December 2014 our CfO was up to CHF119.2 million versus CHF103.9 million in 2013, reflecting our considerable emphasis placed on balance sheet management in 2014
- Going forward, we intend to maintain this strong focus on cash flow management
- CfO ratio of 5-7% is one of our key targets communicated to the market

Remuneration

RBR allegation: “The remuneration of the Board of Directors should be scaled down by 50% until further notice.”; “The fixed component of the Executive Management Board members’ remuneration should be reduced by 35% […].”; “The introduction of long term profit sharing program for the top 100 employees, including ambitious individual and group objectives, should be actively pursued.” (RBR 8-point program, 7 March 2015)

- All salary components are reviewed annually and adjusted if necessary
- The remuneration paid to the management and the Board has been approved by our compensation committee as well as by our shareholders
- The compensation is benchmarked and is fully in line with norms for companies of a similar size and industry
- Reducing compensation for key positions well below the market would seriously impact our ability to attract and retain key talent for these critical positions
- A long term performance incentive program is in place for the top 100 employees and is aligned with the long term performance targets of the company
- Additional information on compensation is included in the Compensation Report 2014
RBR allegation: “The Board reviews the latest executive appointments again (CEO, CFO) and depending on the outcome makes changes in top management” (correspondence with RBR, 2014/2015)

- The Board has conducted a very comprehensive and careful evaluation process and decided for the most suitable candidates. Both executives have longstanding experience in the airline industry and adjacent fields.
- We are fully convinced that Xavier Rossinyol as new CEO and Christoph Schmitz as CFO have superior qualifications that fully enable them to successfully manage our company.
- Xavier Rossinyol brings in-depth knowledge of the airline service industry and contract catering business, significant financial and M&A professional experience, a proven international track record of strategic thinking, strong leadership and excellence in execution to lead gategroup to a new expansionary phase.
- To change the course and direction away from the talented management we have put in place would dramatically destabilize the company and not be in the interest of shareholders.

RBR allegation: RBR proposes to remove five Board members including the Chairman and proposes four new candidates for election to the BoD (press release)

- In the last months, RBR has not engaged in a constructive, consistent approach with its concerns or representations as to Board composition.
- RBR with less than 10% stand-alone ownership (11.71% together with Camox Fund) demands the resignation of four out of seven Board members and proposes its Board slate of four candidates to be elected.
- This would result of the full control of the company without compensating shareholders with a control premium.
- While gategroup welcomes constructive dialogue with all shareholders and has communicated to RBR that some of its candidates merit review and careful consideration, there is no corporate governance basis for a single hedge fund to have a majority control on the Board.

RBR has proposed the following candidates for election to the Board:

- Gerard van Kesteren (former CFO of Kuehne + Nagel)
- Heinz R. Köhli (former CEO of Jet Aviation)
- Frederick W. Reid (former CEO of Virgin America)
- Tommy Tan (private equity investor)
